Scientists who have worked for NASA and rely on its data say that it's also the only agency capable of handling its Earth Science agenda. Because of NASA's decades-long experience in launching satellites and tracking their data, it's not as simple as handing the keys over to, say, the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Don't get confused with the name 'LOKI', it is a microbe not Thor's brother. In a study published this week in the widely read science journal Nature, researchers have claimed that they have discovered a new microbe that serves as the missing link in the evolution of complex cells. The said study was carried out by a team of researchers representing Sweden's Uppsala University.

I think he's been affected badly this season by the injuries of Arjen Robben and Franck Ribery. He has taken some stick but those two players effectively won the Champions League for Bayern in 2013 so they have been a huge loss for them. Robben led Holland to a semi-final at the World Cup in the summer and Ribery is consistently so good.
